Eaton's Beach Opens "STEAM SHACK!"

Dual Ribbon Cuttings at Eaton's Beach. Lady Lake Chamber and the CEP/Ocala Chamber of Commerce had ribbon cuttings minutes apart. Eaton's Beach was announcing 'The Steam Shack'; all went well and hundreds of people attended. The Restaurant and deck out next to the lake was special, live entertainment, the food was phenomenal! Everyone had a good time. This is a great place to take the family. I'm looking forward to visiting when I have time to enjoy it. See you there!

As I See It

First a big ‘Thank you’ to the many readers who took the time to email us about last months column. Everyone has a opinion on ‘The Donald’s run for the White House.

The Republican ‘establishment’ (The ‘RATS’-Republicans Against Trump) have been plotting to defeat Trump, even though he is, by far, their leading candidate for the Presidency. The ‘RATS’ have already spent tens of millions of dollars on negative ads, but it has had no impact on the Trump campaign at all. The ‘RATS’ are dismayed that Trump’s lead in the polls has, in fact increased recently. The ‘RATS’ include people like New York financier George Soros and his ‘establishment-supporting’ cronies who have put up about $15 million already.

The ‘RATS’ also include a group called ‘Our Principles’ with about $4.5 million funded mostly by Republicans. Their plan, ineffective so far, is to expose Trump’s past ‘liberal positions’. The ‘RATS’ must be very proud to include a group like

The Club for Growth Action’ who claim that “A big-government liberal at the top of the GOP ticket (I.E ‘The Donald’), would cost us (Republicans) the White House, the Senate, and ultimately, the US Supreme Court,”reportedly there are in for almost $8 million so far. The ‘RATS’ recent ‘Golden Boy’ Marco Rubio has ties to ‘Conservative Solutions’ . They boast, “We’re running a multi-state, ($55 million) campaign against Donald Trump and the con-man scam he’s pulling on the American people,” Then there’s another ‘RATS’ group called, ‘The American Future Fund’ that has taken out aggressive anti-Trump ads, having spent about $25 million.

Candidate Ted Cruz, who seems to be the ostensible leader of ‘The RATS’, enjoys the support of ‘Stand for Truth’ which of course supports his presidential run to the tune of almost $10 million.

Who would have expected that ‘true, blue’ Republicans would spend billions of dollars just to get rid of Trump.

If ‘The RATS’ are successful, where would they go from there? Seems like they want to send Ted Cruz and John Kasich to the White House.

Its believed by many of us that ‘negative advertising’, doesn’t work; But the contest between ‘The RATS’ and ‘The Donald’ proves otherwise. The more ‘The RATS’ bash Trump, the more popular he gets. Trump needs 1,237 delegates to win the Republican nomination, it seems like ‘The RATS’ are helping him to do just that.

‘til next time. . .

Myths and Facts About LASIK

(NAPSI)—For those with vision correction needs, the daily rituals required in order to see clearly with glasses or contacts can be a real struggle. So it isn’t surprising that so many people consider LASIK as an attractive alternative to treat their vision correction issues. Although it is incredibly popular, LASIK is surprisingly misunderstood. Like many things that make their way into cultural norms, LASIK’s prevalence and success have led to the rise of many myths about the procedure. If you are among the millions considering LASIK, the American Refractive Surgery Council is here to dispel some common myths about the laser vision correction surgery:

Myth: The LASIK procedure is the same today as when it was first performed 20 years ago.

Fact: Many new LASIK technologies and techniques have been introduced over the past two decades, many in just the past few years, that have improved the safety and visual results achieved for people choosing LASIK. As a result, today, LASIK has a 96 percent patient satisfaction rate.

Myth: You can’t have LASIK if you have astigmatism.

Fact: LASIK is approved to treat nearsightedness, farsightedness and astigmatism. Advancements in LASIK make it possible for more people with different kinds of vision prescriptions to be treated than ever before.

Myth: Everyone who wants LASIK can have it done.

Fact: Not everyone is a good candidate for LASIK. If your corneas are too thin or irregular, or if you have certain eye or health diseases, LASIK may not be right for you. A qualified ophthalmologist specializing in refractive surgery can evaluate your vision and health to help determine if you are a good candidate for LASIK.

Myth: You can cut the cost of LASIK by shopping around for a special deal.

Fact: It’s true that many LASIK centers advertise special deals, but when it comes to your vision, you want what’s best for your eyes, not your wallet. Bargain-priced vision correction may not include the level of care you want or use the latest technologies. Look for an experienced, highly qualified surgeon who works with the most advanced LASIK technologies available today. One deal you can feel good about: Many refractive surgeons offer free LASIK consultations.

To find out more about LASIK, read the American Refractive Surgery Council’s “In-sight” blog at www.americanrefrativesurgerycouncil.org/blog.

Florida House of Representatives

DENNIS K. BAXLEY

How to prepare for elections:

We, as Americans, need to own our government. We need not only need to register to vote, we need to register Republican, as most of our local and state legislative races will be decided in Republican only primaries in our region. Don't be left without a voice as parties choose nominees. The general election will still allow the option to vote for any candidate in the race.

It is incredibly important to pick a quality candidate. Look at their entire vote history and make an informed decision. Don't allow one controversial vote to dismiss a qualified candidate. Take the Ronald Reagan approach- someone you agree with 80% of the time is your ally. Don't let perfection be the enemy of possibility. There are no perfect people and no perfect candidates.

It's also important to dig deeper into negative stories. A commercial or mail piece never delivers the entire story. Don't allow the barrage of negative spin flyers make your decisions for you. And don't let the negativity keep you away from the polls.

The registration deadline to vote in the August 30th primary is August 1st. The deadline to register to vote for the November 8th general election is October 11th. Absentee ballots can be requested at votemarion.com.

There have been a lot of changes to district maps since the last election cycle. Both congressional and state senate districts have changed significantly, so make sure you find out what districts you reside in so you can make the best candidate choice for your area. Nothing is as disappointing as deciding on the best candidate only to discover they are not running for your district.

Lastly, get out there and vote. Candidates need your vote for the opportunity to serve and protect our family, freedom and opportunities. Also, remember to thank a veteran. So many have paid dearly for us to have the freedom to select our own leaders. Apathy is our greatest obstacle. You need to be active and at the table. Don't let someone else have your vote by default!

It's still a Great Country!

Onward and upward!

Your Opinion matters to us!

PUBLISHER'S NOTES

Am I a Publisher? YES! Am I a Journalist? NO, and I don't want to be! I am just a guy in search of the truth and I believe that everyone has the right to see their opinion in print, whether I agree with their opinion or not. I was recently criticized by a "Retired Journalist." The reason I know he was a journalist is because he listed his past jobs as his credentials and one was the Ocala Star Banner WOOHOO. Now that one will put you at the top of the list.

The reason I own my own newspapers was I rarely agree with the editor's opinion. Most look at life through a different set of eyes than I do. While disagreeing with an editor one day he said if you don't like my opinion start your own newspaper, Wala! He is still an editor and I'm a publisher and I still look at things through different eyes than most. It's a lot harder to sell ads, take pictures and write. Most editors never have to worry about new revenue.

Anyway, this very competent journalist said he could give me a few pointers. I got all excited, then reality set in. I'm not interested in being a journalist. I told the gentleman that I thought he was well qualified to coach me but I don't want to lose track of my main goal, "Search for the Truth." Many local journalist just want to stir the pot. My job is to put our readers' opinions in print and print facts. While in route of this goal maybe I can help some business people along the way. It's happening again, the local daily takes every opportunity to stir up trouble for the Sheriff. It's almost like they have an agenda??? Well it is an election year, I like Chris Blair and in case you missed it I ENDORSED him. I also endorsed Dennis Baxley. He has a great past record, he is a proven representative of the people.

I also like Earl Arnette. He's a long time friend and he gave his word "No New Taxes!" He kept his word but I think we needed to come up with some new money for the Sheriff's Department instead of cutting the budget. In talking to him before the last vote he said he was going vote yes for the budget and two days later voted no. I'm not sure what that was all about but I'm sure he had his reasons. I need to talk to him some more to see where he stands now!

The new one cent tax voted for by the people of Marion County will help some but keep your eyes on who gets what. Just because voters think a portion is going to the Sheriff's Department does not make it so. All of that is controlled by the County Commissioners and you know how they have been voting in the past.

All of the above, of course, is about politics so why stop now. I understand that delegates' rules are determined by the states and the parties. I think we should let the people vote in the candidates. Look at the mess we are in right now, the way it's being run and both parties are about to self destruct. If the person the people have chosen is not allowed to run, I'm afraid of what comes next. The people do not want the Big Banks, Big Business and Wall Street running the country. They want smaller government, less government control, more freedom!

Three Ways To Save This Spring

(NAPSI)—As the weather warms and outdoor watering starts, it's a good time to ask: Are you throwing water—and money—into the wind? Experts estimate that 50 percent of the 9 billion gallons of water we use outdoors every day is lost due to evaporation, wind or runoff caused by inefficient landscape irrigation.

That's why the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency's WaterSense® program is promoting three steps to start saving water this spring:

1. Right Plant, Right Place: Climates and geography vary nationwide, and your region has distinctive plant species it can naturally support without requiring extra water and fertilizers. Go back to your roots when you're thinking about what to plant in your garden this spring. Visit WaterSense's What to Plant tool (www.epa.gov/watersense/outdoor/what_to_plant.html) to help you choose plants that are right for your climate and require minimal watering. Then group your plants in "hydrozones" according to their water needs to make it easy to irrigate them correctly.

2. Sprinkler Spruce-Up: If you have an inground irrigation system, spring is the perfect time to spruce it up before warm weather watering starts. Remember this mantra—inspect, connect, direct and select: Inspect systems for clogged, broken or missing sprinkler heads; examine the points where the sprinkler heads connect to pipes or hoses for breaks; direct water away from the pavement to apply water only to the landscape; and select a smart WaterSense labeled irrigation controller, which uses local weather conditions to determine when and how much to water your yard.

3. Go With a Pro: Irrigation professionals certified by a WaterSense labeled program can help you design, install, maintain or audit your irrigation system. Find a pro near you using WaterSense's Directory of Certified Professionals (at www.epa.gov/watersense/findapro) to see if your system could distribute water more efficiently to maximize its performance and maintain a healthy landscape without wasting water.

Visit WaterSense at www.epa.gov/watersense to watch a video and learn more about how you-or a certified professional—can inspect, connect, direct and select your way to a smarter system.

CHIEF CHRIS MCKINSTRY

Florida “Road Rage” Law

We’ve all been there; driving on a multi-lane roadway when traffic ahead slows. You don’t want to speed but you would like to at least do the speed limit. You pull over into the left lane to pass only to meet another driver in the left lane who is driving slower than the speed limit and holding traffic back. It’s frustrating and, in some instances, dangerous.

A lot of people refer to the left lane as the “fast lane” but there is actually no such thing as a “fast lane”. There is however a passing lane and it’s the far left lane. It exists to allow drivers who want to get around slower moving traffic to pass. The only reason for a driver to be in the left lane is to pass or to make a left turn. Once you have passed the slower traffic, you should move, as soon as it is safe to do so, back into the right hand lane so that others may pass.

Some drivers have the feeling that, “As long as I’m doing the speed limit, I have a right to be in the left lane and anyone who wants to pass me is speeding and needs to slow down.” That’s a dangerous attitude to have.

A recent study of road rage from Expedia revealed that left lane drivers who are driving below the speed limit are the third top reason to get other drivers’ blood boiling, right after texting while driving and tailgating. Don’t worry texting is still number one.

“SLOWER TRAFFIC KEEP RIGHT.” Signs like this and its closely related cousin (“KEEP RIGHT EXCEPT TO PASS”) are posted on highways around the country. The messages might seem like mere suggestions to drivers, but here in Florida it is the law. Florida State Statute 316.081 makes it a noncriminal traffic infraction, punishable as a moving violation for any driver to dawdle in the left lane proceeding at less than the normal speed of traffic and who doesn’t get out of the way of approaching vehicles.

This law is designed to cut down on dangerous, aggressive driving and road rage incidents. The goal of this law is to reserve the left lane for faster cars, so that traffic flows smoothly and vehicles have no need to rapidly switch lanes left and right to pass.

The Lady Lake Police Department wants to remind you there are some measures you can take to keep this from happening to you. The easiest adjustment to make is to never drive in the left lane of traffic unless you are passing someone or are planning to exit or turn left within a mile or less. If you are in the left lane, pay extra attention to your rear view mirror; and move over to the right lane if you see a vehicle approaching at a high rate of speed from behind.

Finally, don’t put yourself in a position to get rear-ended. You can get yourself hurt or killed. Be part of the solution, not part of the problem.

You Need A Vacation: Five Hints Can Help

(NAPSI)—According to the U.S. Travel Association, the average American worker leaves nearly five paid vacation days on the table—almost an entire week of time that could be spent with family and friends or investing in yourself.

To help you get yourself set to get away, consider these five tips:

- Save money and avoid crowds by traveling in the so-called “shoulder season,” generally fall and spring in Europe and the Caribbean.
- What’s trending in travel is having adventures. Reports the ABTA, a leading travel association, an increasing number of people look for a challenge vacation, such as hot air ballooning in Turkey or white-water rafting in Spain.
- Consider renting an apartment or house rather than a hotel room. This can be particularly handy—and possibly less expensive—if you need a lot of space for a large family.
- Pack smart. The general rule is after you’ve packed up the least you think you’ll need, take out one item. Basically, try to include clothes that can be mixed and matched.
- Get good guides. An all-new series of travel books has been designed to help people quickly pinpoint their locations at their destination cities and discover the best attractions in the vicinity.

This Michelin’s Map & Guide series consists of concise pocket-size guides that pack a lot of information into 25 pages. The books are organized by neighborhoods, with each represented by a single-fold, easy-to-read, atlas-quality map indexed to orient travelers to their immediate surroundings and what they can enjoy nearby. A major French tire maker, Michelin has been making travel guides since 1900.

The books include “must-see” attractions, Michelin travel editors’ favorites, notable restaurants, cafés and bars, shopping and nightlife. They even suggest places where you can just take a short break. They’re great quick reference guides for even the most spontaneous traveler.

Now at major booksellers are guides to Barcelona, London, New York, Paris, Rome and Venice.

ONE PERSON'S OPINION

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor:
 For eons humans have drifted into eras of hedonism and great civilizations have been destroyed. Humans need a code of morals to guide them to conciliation. Morality need not be religious. It can be social conduct, or cultural conduct, but it cannot be hedonistic conduct.

Humans have had enough time to learn, what matters

When will humans learn what is good for them, and what makes life worthwhile. Today it is money, sex, drugs, stuff, and mindlessness. This is an Era of the Educated Dolt.

Morals Matter. Manners Matter. Kindness Matters. Civility Matters.

Fairness Matters. I am looking high and low for any of these, but I am coming up empty.

How can this message be spread throughout the land?

D I L

It's Not Obama's Fault

Dear Mr. Loury:

In the April edition of Seniors Voice, your front page comment regarding President Obama aroused my interest. Had you, as a journalist, chosen to more even-handed, the following might have been added:

February 2009	October 2015
Uninsured 16.1%	9.0%
Unemployment Rate 8%	5.0%

Stock Market 7,365 7,910
 Annual Deficit - $1,400 billion - $426 billion

GDP Growth -2.8% 3.7%
 Consumer Confidence 25.3 97.6
 Combat Troops Deployed 186,300 9,937

Yours truly,
 DH

 Hi D:

First off I'm not a journalist and don't want to be one. I'm a publisher that is in search of the truth and some of what you sent does not take into consideration the average income is down 25%. There are thousands of people that are unemployed that the bean counters are not counting, people who are on government checks, not state unemployment. This administration has printed more money than anyone in the past to prop up the figures you so proudly display. Our national debt is higher today and has grown more in the last 7 years than all the past presidents put together in the history of this country. You're right - I'm not even handed, I was not hard enough on him! BUT IT'S NOT HIS FAULT!

Wonderful Mother

God made a wonderful mother,
 A mother who never grows old;
 He made her smile of the sunshine.

And He moulded her heart of pure gold;

In her eyes He placed bright shining stars,

In her cheeks fair roses you see;
 God made a wonderful mother,
 And He gave that dear mother to me.

- Pat O'Reilly

Mother's Are The Sweetest

Our mother is the sweetest and
 Most delicate of all.
 She knows more of paradise
 Than angels can recall.

She's not only beautiful
 But passionately young,
 Playful as a kid, yet wise
 As one who has lived long.

Her love is like the rush of life,
 A bubbling, laughing spring
 That runs through all like liquid light
 And makes the mountains sing.

And makes the meadows turn to flower
 And trees to choicest fruit.
 She is at once the field and bower
 In which our hearts take root.

She is at once the sea and shore,
 Our freedom and our past.
 With her we launch our daring
 ships
 Yet keep the things that last.

4-H Youth In Action Award Recognizes Teen Who Inspires Others To Engage In STEM

(NAPSI)—As adults search for ways to inspire American youth to explore STEM (Science, Technology, Engineering and Math), they might want to borrow a page from the book of 18-year-old Illinois 4-H member Thaddeus (Thad) Hughes, who has introduced thousands of young people to science through hands-on programs he contributed to or created to spark their interest.

The National 4-H Council has awarded Thad its 2016 Youth In Action (YIA) STEM Pillar Award (sponsored by HughesNet) for engaging more than 6,000 youth in STEM subjects through demonstrations, workshops, talks and interviews, and as a mentor for the FIRST Lego League and the Illinois State Robotics Competition. Thad's efforts have earned scholarships for him and his 4-H club, helping him to continue his passion for connecting students to STEM while he studies engineering at the Rose Hulman Institute of Technology.

The YIA Awards honor 4-H'ers in four categories—STEM, Citizenship, Agriculture/Animal Science, and Healthy Living—for gaining critical life skills through their 4-H experiences and using those skills to overcome challenges. The STEM Pillar Award is sponsored by HughesNet, which is a partner with 4-H to introduce American youth to hands-on, community-based STEM learning.

YIA honorees epitomize 4-H youth empowerment and leadership. Thad has created learning resources to help younger peers see that they can learn and excel in STEM subjects. He developed an after-school program through the University of Illinois Cooperative Extension called Spinning Robots, in which he taught 50 middle schoolers basic circuitry and how to build simple robots.

Thad also created a curriculum to teach middle schoolers principles of electricity, from basic circuits to transistors.

"I found that there was one major discouragement among students: 'I don't think I can do that. I don't know the stuff,'" Thad said. "Simply replying 'sure you can' isn't very convincing. I set out to fix this misconception."

4-H and HughesNet share a passion for educating youth to develop into tomorrow's future leaders—a passion that Thad embodies. Their partnership is aimed at inspiring the next generation of scientists, building future leaders and powering our country's competitiveness in the global economy.

"Thad's dedication to sharing his gifts with younger learners is exactly what the U.S. needs to inspire the next generation of peer mentors in STEM," said Peter Gulla, senior vice president marketing, Hughes Network Systems. "It's vital to convince youth that learning science and technology is important. Thad's example delivers that message by empowering youth with encouragement and real opportunities to develop skills."

For 25 years, the Fisher House program has provided a "home away from home" for families of patients receiving medical care at major military and VA medical centers. Governor Scott Signs Bill

TAMPA, Fla. – Governor Rick Scott joined Attorney General Pam Bondi, Senator Kelli Stargel, Representative Janet Adkins, Representative Colleen Burton, and advocates from across the state to ceremonially sign legislation which reduces the turnaround time for the processing and testing of rape kits. SB 636 requires kits to be submitted within 30 days to a crime lab and tested within 120 days.

Governor Scott also highlighted the more than $10 million included in this year's Florida First budget to ensure Florida's law enforcement personnel have the tools they need to reduce the backlog of these kits across the state.

OUR DEBT TO THE HEROIC MEN AND VALIENT WOMEN IN THE SERVICE OF OUR COUNTRY CAN NEVER BE REPAID. THEY HAVE EARNED OUR UNDYING GRATITUDE. AMERICA WILL NEVER FORGET THEIR SACRIFICES.

Florida Department of Health

Tallahassee, Fla.—In an effort to increase public awareness of the status of HIV in Florida, the Department of Health has launched a new HIV Data Center that clearly explains the Centers for Disease Control’s (CDC) information gathering and CDC’s deduplication processes. The new HIV Data Center, compounded with CDC’s recent report praising Florida’s HIV data program, demonstrates the Department of Health’s commitment to treating and preventing HIV in Florida.

“Fighting a terrible and complex disease, such as HIV, requires a multifaceted approach that involves collecting and analyzing data, providing testing and linkage to treatment and a tremendous amount of education,” said Interim State Surgeon General Dr. Celeste Philip. “Florida has developed one of the nation’s most comprehensive HIV programs that addresses surveillance, education, prevention, counseling, testing, care and treatment. It is our goal that this webpage will serve as another tool to educate community leaders, our partners and our residents about the state of HIV in Florida.”

The new HIV Data Center, hosted on the front page of the department’s website, features:

The number of recorded cases of HIV infection in Florida from 2010 through 2014;
Information on CDC’s deduplication process;

The number of cases deduplicated by Florida;

The number of cases received from CDC to analyze for deduplication; and Outlines the process by which a person who tests positive for HIV might be reflected in multiple states’ data.

Through targeted outreach, the department brings together community partners to reach high-risk populations for the purpose of education and testing. The department has mobilized comprehensive and dynamic resources – such as our mobile health units that go into neighborhoods to talk about prevention and provide testing and counseling. By continuing to raise awareness, we can help educate a new generation about HIV/AIDS.

The department will continue to update the webpage as new data becomes available each month.

Hot Accessories For The Contemporary Cook

(NAPSI)—These days, it’s not enough for home cooks to be able to multitask—get all the elements of the meal on the table at the same time, while looking after family and career—they want their appliances to multitask, as well.

What’s Wanted

In fact, according to a recent Research Institute for Cooking & Kitchen Intelligence (RICKI) study, 12 percent of small-kitchen designers want combination appliances that can multitask, the most popular request after storage and cabinet solutions.

To meet both those needs, a number of appliances and other kitchen products come with helpful built-in accessories that save space, help organize, and make cooking at home easy whether you aspire to be a chef or you already are one.

What’s Available

As a result, you can now get sinks with integrated cutting boards or colanders, cabinetry with built-in recycling pullouts, plus ranges with a wide variety of functional cooking features and accessories that save space and enhance performance.

For example, the Chefs Pak from Verona Appliances features all the most popular of the company’s accessories—the maple cutting board, the stainless steel griddle, the three-piece half tray steamer, the beveled spatula and the digital meat probe—in a

Commuting, Traveling: Easier, Safer, More Fun

(NAPSI)—Your next drive to work, family road trip or shopping run can be more comfortable for you, more fun for your passengers and safer for everyone. That's because of all the exciting features you can find in one new vehicle, the all-new 2017 Chrysler Pacifica:

Comfort and Convenience

- Personalization and navigation are made easier with a seven-inch, full-color driver information display enhanced by vivid and intuitive graphics.

- The seats in the first row are ventilated. The seats in the first and second row are heated (if equipped).

- The sliding doors and the liftgate are hands-free. They open with the swipe of your foot to make life easier.

- The minivan's Stow 'n Go seating and storage system works with the press of a button. The second-row seats simply disappear into the floor.

- Drivers can remotely lock or unlock the doors and start the vehicle from virtually anywhere in the U.S. using a smartphone or computer.

Passenger Pleasers

- Good news for parents and children: The "Are We There Yet?" app shows the distance remaining to your destination and estimated arrival time.

- Also transforming the passenger productivity and entertainment experience is the all-new, class-exclusive Uconnect Theater rear seat entertainment system. Passengers can watch movies, play built-in games, and connect personal devices to surf the Internet and stream content throughout the vehicle. To quickly navigate through options, riders can swipe through the touch screens or use the included Bluetooth touch-pad remote control.

- There are two high-definition, 10-inch touch screens on the back headrests. Individual content can be displayed on each screen.

- The minivan has both USB and HDMI ports for watching movies and charging devices. No more run-down batteries.

Safety Sense

- Teenagers or others drive your van? Fear not. Safe driving habits can be promoted and driver distractions limited with the Chrysler KeySense programmable key fob. Using a four-digit security PIN programmed via the touch screen, an assigned key fob limits speed and audio volume and mutes the audio until front seat belts are buckled.

- 9-1-1 and Assist Buttons connect to emergency service providers, roadside assistance dispatchers and vehicle information specialists.

- Pacifica owners can get a text message whenever the vehicle's alarm is triggered.

- Finally, for a safer planet, you can get the vehicle as a hybrid, running on both gasoline and electricity.

single, convenient package.

From ILVE Appliances comes a number of exclusive built-in features as well as optional accessories made to fit just right on the company's cooktop surfaces to provide beauty, style and performance.

So, how can these range accessories help you multitask?

Consider this:

Oblong or fish burners (unique to ILVE) can be used to evenly heat long poachers and stockpots or several smaller pots at once.

Simmer settings for soups, sauces and melting chocolate can be achieved with a simmer plate and the inner flame of a triple-ring burner. The plate can accommodate just about any size pan.

Full-size or half-size stainless steel griddles conveniently cook anything from eggs to burgers—just like a professional chef. The griddle is fully removable for easy cleanup. A griddle-top dome will also help with that by preventing grease splatters. As a bonus, it holds in moisture for a more flavorful meal.

Indulge your taste for ethnic specialties with a wok ring that goes directly over the grate to evenly distribute the heat and an optional barbecue grill that allows for juicy grilled food all year long.

To steam your vegetables and shellfish to just the right texture, consider a steamer top that sits right on top of the griddle. Just add a little water and the perforated insert. You can even chop these vegetables right on your range top using the fitted cutting board.

A French top is a unique multi-ringed flat surface that can provide a high heat in the center and a lower heat on the outer perimeter. It offers the aspiring chef a great deal of control for sauces.

All these accessories are incorporated in the ILVE range, which makes it one of the best multitasking appliances available.

ILVE and Verona Italian-crafted ranges, ovens, cooktops and ventilation systems are internationally recognized for their innovative cooking products. Visit www.eurochefusa.com for a chance to see videos of the accessories in action.
