Chantel Buck, CEO/President of New Vision for Independence, shared some of the challenges of a nonprofit organization at the Lady Lake Chamber breakfast. She shared some similarities with small businesses in their challenges and how it is important to partner with each other in our community to make it a better place to live. New Vision is committed to excellence in providing rehabilitation, community education, and support services for people with low vision or blindness, and their families to promote independence, acceptance, and self-confidence. Please call or email Shelly Gerig Development Director for further information on how you can be involved in their organization. sgerig@newvisionfl.org or 352.435.5040

Fred Schweitz, owner of Too Your Health Spa #5, sponsored the breakfast. Fred spoke for a moment on the importance on breathing correctly.

We the People By the People For the People

"The people are speaking" in these elections and the core politicians are not listening. They have lost sight of who they work for. The political system is trying to come back and realign itself. I predicted a long time ago that it needed to happen. It's not happening the way I thought it would. It will be painful but I believe that America can be great again. The structure needs to land some where between what it is now and down to earth, common sense measures.

AS I SEE IT

? Who is running this country? A recent report stated that about 9% of our politicians label themselves as African-Americans. Also we have about 4% ‘Latinos’ and 2% Asians.

The tragic remnants of the original people (Native Americans) have less than 1% representation. The report did not include various ‘white’ religious groups like Christians, Jews and Moslems who, apparently are the vast majority of about 86%.

-While there is controversy all over the world about ‘immigration’, I have never seen a discussion about the ‘rights’ of the rest of us; non-minorities.

-The discussion could start with a simple question, “Does Israel have a ‘right-to-exist’”. Most Jews say ‘yes’, most Moslems ‘No’; and Christians are split or silent.

-The so-called ‘Islamic State’ wants their own ‘Israel’. Throughout history a ‘people’ would carve out their own country and exterminate other groups, residents, races and religions to make it their own.

-But my question is, do white people also have a ‘right-to-exist’?

-In a few decades there will no longer be a ‘predominant race’ in America. but contrary to the dreams of the liberals, it will not be a homogenous, harmonious world of equality. When ‘white dominance’ declines another group will take over.

Perhaps they will not be as passive and submissive as whites have been.

It’s a fact that every great ‘Empire’ the world has ever seen has faded away or worse, been destroyed by immigrant ‘invaders’.

The ‘Africans’ want compensation for slavery. The Spanish want to take back ‘Mexico’. (Most all of the south/west of the USA). The Asians want to take back the whole American continents - north & south America because ‘Asians’ were the first human inhabitants of the Americas.

So, who has the right to their own country?

History says, It’s the ‘survival-of-the-fittest’.

-The ‘meek might inherit the earth’ at some point in eternity, but, for now, ‘only the strong will survive’.

-TEFLON TRUMP continues to insult racial minorities, women, retirees, foreign countries and just about anyone else who has the nerve to disagree.

-It was only a few weeks ago that one prominent Republican leader said, “Trump will lose when the voters learn the truth about him. He’s not conservative, and he’s really just he worst kind of politician”.

-A newspaper headline screamed “Big Name Republicans Abandon Trump”.

-It just shows how out-of-touch, the media is, and how these ‘lifers’ don’t know or care about voters or tax-payers. Most of them have never had a real job, or are lawyers, which is even worse.

-So now, the ‘RATS’ (Republicans-Against-Trump) have collapsed. And their wealthy fundraisers are falling over themselves to jump onto the Trump band-wagon.

-Trump has said all along that he has his own money and will not be influenced by the ‘Dominant 1%’.

-Now he has reversed course and is demanding that the Republicans give him a BILLION dollars to fund his ‘purchase’ of the White House.

-And, if I understand it correctly, he will ‘refund’ himself all the money he has already spent. So the much boasted-boast ‘self-funding’ turns out to be a ‘loan’ after all.

Til next time .....

How to Sell Your Home Without an Agent

Selling Your Home Yourself - If you've tried to sell your home yourself, you know that the minute you put the "For Sale by Owner" sign up, the phone will start to ring off the hook. Unfortunately, most calls aren't from prospective buyers, but rather from every real estate agent in town who will start to hound you for your listing.

Like other "For Sale by Owners", you'll be subjected to a hundred sales pitches from agents who will tell you how great they are and how you can't possibly sell your home by yourself. After all, without the proper information, selling a home isn't easy. Perhaps you've had your home on the market for several months with no offers from qualified buyers. This can be a very frustrating time, and many homeowners have given up their dreams of selling their homes themselves. But don't give up until you've read a new report entitled "Sell Your Own Home" which has been prepared especially for home sellers like you. You'll find that selling your home by yourself is entirely possible once you understand the process.

Inside this report, you'll find 10 inside tips to selling your home by yourself which will help you sell for the best price in the shortest amount of time. OVERREACH
The latest Obama Order linking bathroom policy and education funding is the latest bold example of central government overreach. Regardless of your views on these issues, what is most evident is that this is NOT how public policy is formed in a democratic republic. This highlights the disregard for our constitutional form of government which respected the sovereignty of states and granted limited prescribed powers to the central government. What we are witnessing is executive tyranny. This kind of tyranny is fostering the anger that grips our nation.

It will be a greater imperative for state and local governments to stand firm in resisting this overreach to restore liberty. American freedom is not a selfish freedom. It does not empower us to 'do whatever I want'. It is a responsible freedom, to allow one to be free to take responsibility for oneself and others. This is the America we were given, one that lifted not only the quality of life for us, but for the world. We must work to restore this nation for the next generations to follow. I believe in the spirit of the American people. Every generation has met this challenge and we will continue to do so.

We are Americans.

CHIEF CHRIS MCKINSTRY

When Is Wearing Headphones or Earphones Against Florida Law?

Wearing a headset, earphones or headphones can contribute to car crashes.

Although it is not against Florida law to walk with headphones on, it is against the law to drive a vehicle or ride a bicycle while wearing a headset, earphones, headphones or other listening device. Florida Statute 316.304 states that no person shall operate a vehicle while wearing a headset, headphone, or other listening device, other than a hearing aid or instrument for the improvement of defective human hearing. There are a few exceptions that include a motorcyclist using a headset that is installed in a helmet and worn so as to prevent the speakers from making direct contact with the user's ears so that the user can hear surrounding sounds and any person using a headset in conjunction with a cellular telephone that only provides sound through one ear and allows surrounding sounds to be heard with the other ear.

Some people may argue that this law only pertains to "vehicles." However, it is important to know how Florida law defines "vehicles." Under Florida Statute 316.003(75) a "vehicle" is defined as "every device, in, upon, or by which any person or property is or may be transported or drawn upon a highway, excepting devices used exclusively upon stationary rails or tracks." In this same law, a bicycle is defined as "every vehicle propelled solely by human power, and every motorized bicycle propelled by a combination of human power and an electric helper motor . . ."

A violation of this section of the law is a noncriminal traffic infraction, punishable as a nonmoving violation.

So, follow the law and don't wear earphones while driving a car or riding a bike. Not only is it illegal, it is not smart. If those tunes drown out the drone of the unseen semi truck bearing down on you, serious injury or death can result.

On behalf of the men and women of the Lady Lake Police Department, I encourage everyone to drive safely.

Sensitive Skin Solution

tinted lotion features a 100 percent mineral-based filter to help defend even the most sensitive and acne-prone skin from the sun's harmful rays, without the irritation that chemical filters may cause.

How It Works

Unlike chemical sunscreen filters that absorb UV rays before they penetrate the skin, mineral sunscreen deflects the rays.

The formula offers additional defense against free radical damage because it has the antioxidant power and conditioning benefits of vitamin E.

What's more, in consumer testing, 87 percent of users said the product blends easily into skin tone and 83 percent agreed it enhances natural skin tone.

Where It's Found

In addition to Kiehl's freestanding stores nationwide, Kiehl's products are available at www.kiehls.com/correct-and-protect-clearly-corrective-super-fluid-uv-defense, by mail order at (800) KIEHLS-2 as well as through select specialty retailers worldwide.

A mineral-based sunscreen won't irritate sensitive skin but will protect it from the premature aging that UV rays can cause.

(NAPS)—Skin care experts agree: Sunscreen is the No. 1 method of protecting skin from the damaging effects of the sun's UVA and UVB rays. However, for those with sensitive or acne-prone skin, chemical sunscreen filters used in traditional sunscreens may irritate skin. Avoiding necessary sun protection, on the other hand, can lead to premature skin aging.

What To Do

With sensitive skin affecting 66 percent of Americans, the clever chemists at Kiehl's Since 1851 developed a new, nonirritating, broad-spectrum lotion specifically formulated with sensitive and acne-prone skin in mind: Dermatologist Solutions Super Fluid UV Mineral Defense Broad Spectrum SPF 50+. This sheer, ultralightweight and lightly

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

There is no longer a United States of "WE THE PEOPLE".

It is now the United States of "WE THE WASHINGTON, D.C. VIPERS" liberal and conservative.

WE THE PEOPLE are looking for a savior, and see none on the horizon.

John Bolton, Lt. General Jerry Boykin, or Rudy Giuliani might get my endorsement, but none of them are on the ballot.

We have a choice between a Maybe and a NO. The Maybe promises us many of the things we the people want. If Maybe gives us one of those promises we will be farther ahead, than if No is elected, and gives us more VIPERISM. Who will do us the least harm? Our culture, morality, money, jobs, and freedom are on the line. Maybe is being savaged by the POWER LUSTERS [THE VIPERS}, and lobbyists, because Maybe is not beholden to them. We the people need an unencumbered candidate.

What do we want strife or harmony? Freedom or enslavement?

Please look for knowledge. The Communist Takeover of America – 45

Allergy And Dirty Ducts

(NAPS)—Allergies are nothing to sneeze at but you can make your home more comfortable for people who have allergies and improve your indoor air quality—by cleaning in an often forgotten place.

Indoor air quality can be a big concern for many families. After all, in a typical six-room home, up to 40 pounds of dust—including dangerous chemicals and other pollutants—is created annually through everyday living. These contaminants are pulled into the HVAC system and recirculated as much as seven times a day. Over time, this leads to built-up contaminants in the ductwork. Since your heating and cooling system is the lungs of your home, you want to keep it clear.

One way to do so is to hire a member of the National Air Duct Cleaners Association (NADCA) to give your system a thorough cleaning. Since NADCA members possess general liability insurance and they must clean and restore your heating and cooling system in accordance with NADCA standards and guidelines, they provide a high level of security.

To find a NADCA member, see <http://nadca.com/en/prosearch/all>. Enter your zip code or state to find a certified professional near you.

You can't see inside your ducts but they may need your attention.

Blinded Veterans Take On Ranger Training

(NAPSI)—For two years, some of the toughest training in the military has been enjoyed by some pretty tough American veterans, in this case members of the Blinded Veterans Association (BVA).

With unusually high levels of strength, stamina and endurance, they spend a long weekend of rigorous U.S. Army Ranger training at Camp Frank D. Merrill Military Base in Georgia.

With travel sponsored by BVA's Operation Peer Support Committee and the idea brought to fruition by the Association's National Sergeant at Arms Danny Wallace, the trip to Camp Merrill and the subsequent training to be an Army Ranger is for the blinded veterans much like it is for actual Ranger recruits.

"We display our unstoppable drive not only to ourselves but to the elite U.S. Army Rangers," Wallace affirmed after the first Ranger experience in 2015.

Activities consist of mountaineering training that includes hiking up a rock-strewn trail toward cliffs they later climb and rappel. At the cliffs, the Ranger cadre and instructors set up eight climbing stations at which trainees can prove themselves on the vertical rock. The instructors assist them in tying knots and ascending the rock face. Later in the day, they move back to a base camp and climb a synthetic rock wall and perform additional rappelling.

"The only limitations that we face are those that we place on ourselves," said Wallace. "Words that come to mind in helping us overcome these limitations as blinded veterans are 'courage,' 'determination,' 'self-respect,' 'intestinal fortitude,' 'pride,' 'self-worth,' 'confidence,' 'commitment' and 'fellowship,' just to name a few."

The Ranger trainees also conduct a 5K run. In addition, they are invited to the Gainesville, Georgia Police Department, where they shoot live fire using shotguns, assault rifles and pistols. Several eating, drinking and storytelling competitions are also on the program.

"I first attended Ranger school 47 years ago," said blinded Vietnam veteran and New Orleans, Louisiana resident Joe Burns, who is also the oldest of the participants from both 2015 and 2016. "This prior experience did not interfere with the rewards that I reaped from having the chance to do it again now."

Burns' comments were echoed by Kevin Jackson of Austin, Texas, who also praised the program and the overall experience.

"Walking up to and then climbing the rock, I paid attention to all of my body positions," he said. "This total body experience was very revealing and provided me with a sense of accomplishment that I had not experienced in a long time as I ascended to a height I didn't expect."

Jackson was as emphatic about his associations with fellow comrades as he was about the activities themselves.

"The camaraderie and companionship that were built in five days with other blinded veterans as well as our guides were beyond belief and very enduring," he said. "Our guides went out of their way to support us in any way they could."

In addition to the rigorous physical activity, the blinded veterans are treated to a barbecue, a fish fry, and a critter cookout in the evenings.

The volunteers that Wallace recruited to keep the veterans safe, well fed and on schedule for two years straight consisted of two young soldiers who worked at the camp and a larger cadre of his Ranger friends, some of whom traveled long distances to be able to work with the group.

"The devotion and respect these warriors command is second to none," said one such volunteer who traveled across the country in 2016 and who preferred to remain anonymous. "It is times like these, now each year, that makes me appreciate the love these veterans have for their country, and the esprit de corps that we have holds a special place in my heart."

The veteran-trainees are all legally blind and from several eras of service. BVA is the

Family Fun Made Simple

(NAPSI)—As a parent, life is chaotic. Some days can feel like a race to get through, but when we slow down and savor a joyful moment of simplicity, we never regret it. Positive memories that involve lively activities and healthful foods, like blueberries, can set kids on a positive path, instilling shared memories and good choices to last a lifetime.

To make this summer unforgettable, the Blueberry Council is sharing 100 Bite-Size Summer Moments—simple, enjoyable, wholesome and delicious things to do as a family. Here are 25 “bites,” or ideas for things to do together to kick off the summer. You can find detailed recipes and blueberry farm locations, plus new Bite-Size ideas every two weeks now-August, at littlebluedy namos.com:

- Slow it down on your nature walk—take pics of the coolest and weirdest things you see, then look them up when you get home.
- Pick your own blueberries at a nearby farm—make something fun or eat ‘em fresh!
- Pack up paper and art supplies for a trip to the local zoo and draw the animals you like best. Can you say arts and giraffes?
- Punch up your lunch with a family picnic! Everyone gets to choose or make one thing he or she likes the most.
- Stir up an adults-only beverage with Blueberry Moscow Mules. The occasion? Life.

• Establish a “no-phone zone” at meals. Replace texting with talking! What did YOU learn/do today?

• Host a recipe swap party with friends. Discover healthy, fun snacks for kids AND the latest gossip. #WinWin.

• Try your hand at fun-shaped pancakes. Not artistically inclined? Everyone can make a delicious smiley face out of blueberries!

• Challenge kids to make their own recipes using only ingredients already at home. (It’s not lazy, it’s resourceful!)

• Shop together for exotic new fruits or veggies to try—like star fruit or artichokes—and find recipes to use them.

• Preserve the taste of summer with homemade blueberry jam. Your future self will be grateful!

• Go for gold with your own Summer Olympics at the pool with races, relays and other games.

• Make each member of the family a “Wellness Wednesday” jar to drop in activity and healthy food ideas. Every Wednesday, pick one from each jar and let the wellness wash over you.

• Plant blueberry bushes on your property. The environment and your family will thank you!

• Give your kids’ roadside stand an edge with bright blueberry lemonade.

• Get ready for long car trips and beach vacays with a neighborhood book swap.

• Got picky eaters? Entice them with a build-your-own-smoothie bar full of fruits/veggies.

• Plan a neighborhood “progressive play-date,” moving from house to house to enjoy different “play stations.”

• Rally the kids for a local playground/park cleanup day.

• Clear space for a serious dance floor. Rock the house with a Zumba party or try out the funniest moves you can find on YouTube.

• Hit your local blueberry festival for tasty treats and activities.

• Make a friend’s day with a surprise letter! Fill the envelope with fun paper gifts like a handmade bookmark, stickers or confetti—and don’t forget to decorate the envelope!

• Practice “Muffin Tin Math”; with toddlers, letting them count and categorize healthy snacks in muffin tins or ice cube trays.

• Take turns storytelling—each person contributes one sentence at a time. Write down or record for lasting family memories.

• Chill out with some guilt-free, homemade ice pops with frozen fruit. Here’s how:

- Red, White and Blueberry Popsicles
Makes 4
- 1 cup vanilla yogurt
  - 1 cup frozen blueberries, thawed
  - 1 cup diced watermelon
  - 4 popsicle sticks and mold
- In a blender, add blueberries and 5 table-

An Inspiring Look at Love, Illness And Recovery

(NAPSI)—According to the American Cancer Society, nearly two out of five Americans will be diagnosed with cancer at some time in their lives. It's a rare family that's not affected—but if it ever happens to you, a new book may be both helpful and inspiring.

“Walk Beside Me” by Christine Handy (Proper Press, LLC) is the amazing story of one woman's journey from a world of fashion, fame and wealth to one of cancer and healing; it's about a life that goes from the glitter of New York's fashion world and designer labels to one of loneliness, fear, illness and, finally, recovery.

The book is a fictionalized story of what at first seems a picture-perfect life: a stunning model turned wife and mother, who lives in a beautiful home with her husband and two kids in one of the wealthiest neighborhoods in Ohio. Then she's diagnosed with breast cancer and it all seems to fall apart.

Fortunately for her, she has the most amazingly devoted group of friends who won't let her walk alone. These extraordinary women, all living prominent lives with demanding schedules, take turns staying with her, accompanying her to doctors' appointments, to chemo sessions and back home, where they do everything for her, from feeding her to bathing her to cleaning up after her. They are her angels, and they walk beside her every step of her long recovery.

They lift her spirits; laugh and cry with her. They share their stories, some funny, some sad. They walk beside her spiritually and emotionally, soothing her heartache, boosting her self-esteem and reminding her that every single minute of her life is abundantly worth living.

This is an enthralling story of sickness and triumph, of being comfortable in your own skin, of valuing the things that have true worth, and of learning to fight for yourself and what you truly want. It's the story of a woman who peels away the layers to find her inner warrior, a woman who faces insurmountable odds and—thanks to her earthly angels—learns to treasure the gift of God's infinite light and love.

The author, a real-life former model and cancer survivor, is now an advocate for women with breast cancer, and donates 15 percent of the sales price of her book to breast cancer research.

“Walk Beside Me” is available at www.amazon.com and www.barnesandnoble.com in hardcover, paperback and as an e-book.

spoons yogurt; puree until smooth. Divide blueberry mixture among the ice pop molds, filling them about 1/3 of the way. Freeze 1-2 hours. Add a layer of 2 tablespoons yogurt on top of frozen blueberry layer to each ice pop mold. Freeze 1 hour until almost completely frozen. In the meantime, puree watermelon and 1 tablespoon yogurt in a blender. When the yogurt layer is almost completely frozen, add watermelon mixture to form top layer of the ice pops. Push in the pop handles. Freeze another 1-2 hours.

The Buzz On Bees

(NAPS)—If you’ve ever wondered where the term “worker bee” comes from, consider this when you sit down for your next meal: One out of every three bites of food you eat exists because of bees and other pollinators.

Without their contributions to the pollination of flowering plants, chances are your favorite fruit, vegetable or nut simply wouldn’t be as plentiful, economical or nutritious.

The connections among growing successful crops, food and pollinator activity suggest that a healthy bee population is essential to meeting the heightened demand for food that accompanies an expanding global human population. Additionally, beyond their benefits to crops, pollinators—and their habitats—promote enhanced biodiversity and environmental benefits.

Much like the planet’s land and natural resources, however, pollinators face a host of challenges—parasites, disease, poor nutrition, and climate change, to name a few. And just as a varied diet is important for human health, nutrition is equally crucial for the health of bees.

To help support a thriving environment for bees and other pollinators, Syngenta, a global agriculture company, works with beekeepers and researchers throughout the world to better understand pollinators’ needs, identify ways to improve bee health and implement programs to help restore these vital populations.

One such program is Operation Pollinator, which helps establish essential habitats and forage areas on unused commercial farmland, golf courses and other landscapes. Using region-specific wildflower seed mixes, farmers, land managers and golf course superintendents participating in Operation Pollinator cultivate unused areas with native flower species, attracting pollinators while simultaneously beautifying community landscapes. In addition to reviving and restoring pollinator populations, these habitats help reduce soil erosion while protecting water sources from soil and nutrient pollution.

The footprint of Operation Pollinator, now in its 15th year, extends to 13 countries. In the U.S. alone, these habitats can be found on hundreds of golf courses and large swaths of commercial farmland.

Fortunately, you don’t have to be a farmer, own a golf course or have a lot of land to make a difference in pollinator health. Pollinator-friendly gardens and window boxes with native flowers are examples of simple, cost-effective ways to support a thriving bee population. Sponsoring community projects and organizations that plant wildflowers along roadsides, in parks or on other unused land is another way to provide greater access to diverse pollen sources.

For more information about Operation Pollinator, visit www.OperationPollinator-US.com.

only Veterans Service Organization exclusively dedicated to serving the estimated 132,000 blinded veterans and their families throughout the United States. Its Operation Peer Support initiative seeks to help newly blinded veterans look ahead to the possibilities and opportunities their lives still present, through social activities, counseling, and educational forums regarding benefits and rehabilitation.

“The purpose of the trip is to let people know that an organization for blinded veterans actually exists while building and fostering a bond of camaraderie between BVA and the elite Army Rangers,” said Wallace. “It is our intent to demonstrate, not only to our veterans but to the Ranger community as well, the abilities that we possess even without our sight.”

Money Management

(NAPS)—The millennial generation, born between 1982 and 2000, accounts for almost 25 percent of the total U.S. population and is expected to be a driving force in the economy for decades. It's also the first generation that's always had technology at their fingertips, so, it's predicted, they'll manage their important financial decisions digitally.

For many of them, their opinions of the market have been heavily influenced by the financial crash of 2007 and nearly 75 percent worry that they should be saving more for retirement.

An Answer

One solution to this problem could come from the very technology they feel so comfortable with—a group of tools and applications called FinTech.

For example, a top tool today comes from 24-year-old Jesus Lopez. He created a product for young professionals trying to navigate their finances and save: OnePay. It was designed to be a free, one-stop solution for millennials (and the tech savvy of all ages) to fully embrace their earning and saving potential.

How It Works

Step 1: Sign up at no cost and connect your service providers to your profile.

Step 2: The system calculates your monthly average and sends you a single bill.

Step 3: Pay your bill with one click—or set up an autopay system to “click and forget.”

Not only is this a supremely easy way to pay your bills, the tool finds discounts and helps save you money in a virtual piggy bank. It also saves all your monthly financial documents so you can review your spending habits for better budgeting.

For further facts or to sign up, visit www.JustOnePay.com.

A new online system can be excellent for everyone looking to drastically unclutter their financial lives and to pay all their bills at once—and enjoy an easy savings program.
